

MARGARET SHUMAN
3965 Sans Souci CT
Clarkston, GA 30021
678-772-1644
shumanhw@gmail.com
MargaretShuman.com

EDUCATION

M.A. in Speech/Theatre; Bowling Green State University, OH

- Teaching assistantship in Speech 101
- PhD level classes: Teaching Writing and Metaphysical Literature

B.A. in English/Secondary Education; Berry College, GA

- Majors in English and German
- State of GA renewable 7-12 teaching certificate

EMPLOYMENT

Hybrid Education Instructor: 1998-present

- Offer five classes: AP Literature, AP Language, Multicultural Lit, British Lit , Acting/Improv
- Meet with parents who are considering what learning options best fit their children
- Bring professionals from the Atlanta community into the classroom
- Organize panel discussions on topics such as neuro-divergency and preparing for college

Copy Editor: 1991-present

- Consultant/editor for several book publishers
- Copy editor for newsletters, course textbooks, and other publications

Drama Director: 1991-1998

- Led Atlanta church's adult theatre program and student summer arts camp
- Presented at regional and national theatre conferences

Traditional School Instructor: 1982-1990

- Taught in public, boarding, and private high schools
- Led seminars in AP course development at professional teacher conferences
- Directed full-length theatre productions involving K-12 students and community members
- Led steering committee for SACS accreditation

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT

- Four week-long AP English summer seminars offered by College Board
- Twenty staff development units in fine arts at Atlanta Arts Alliance

PERSONAL

- Homeschooled son who graduated from GA Tech College of Computing
- Enjoys living with husband in diverse Clarkston neighborhood
- Loves having German exchange students in their home, and cooking from scratch
- Teaches fitness classes in Atlanta area from time to time